OUR ALMA MATER

To Juniata, College dear,
In praise we raise our song,
The place of loyal hearts and cheer,
Which we have loved so long.
We love the pathways to and fro,
The classrooms and the halls,
We'll ne'er forget, tho far we go,
The days within her walls.

Oh stars which in the heaven shine,
Oh swiftly soaring moon,
Shed forth thy glorious light divine
To pierce the azure gloom.
And though thy blessings you distill,
O'er many climes and lands,
Bestow thy choicest on the Hill
Where Juniata stands.

And when the day is almost done,
The sun in western skies,
The memories of days now gone,
Will light our dimming eyes.
And when the star's faint twinkling rays
Do beckon us above,
E'en then with fleeting breath we'll praise
The J. C. that we love.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Another college year moves to its close, and the staff of the Alfarata presents to us again the work which embodies its conception of the College and its activities.

Of course the spirit of the institution cannot be portrayed here—indeed it cannot be portrayed at all. It is of course something intangible which endeavors to express itself in varied form on the Juniata campus and elsewhere.

Perhaps we should say that the real Juniata spirit is the ideal which we "follow after", and which, while it constantly eludes us, ever "lures to brighter worlds and leads the way." It is more, assuredly, than the spirit of scholarship — it is the spirit of fellowship, of mastership, and of discipleship under the guidance of the Master Teacher.

OUR COLLEGE

A little college on a hill; built on faith; the fruit of sacrifice. A place where lives of teachers and students fuse together to mutual benefit. Not rich in material goods, but rich in eternal values. Not large in size, but big of heart. Not vainglorious, but meek and unpretentious. Not restricted in influence, but living in hearts of loyal alumni and friends throughout the world. Not content with her present, but moving forward — with faith in her purpose, and hope for the future.

WARREN D. BOWMAN.

DEAN OF WOMEN'S ADDRESS

College spirit, when it is at work, will transform the homeliest of buildings and the most barren of campuses into objects of romantic loyalty. It will change dull, formal classrooms into vital and joyous contacts with inspiring personalities and engender lasting joy in intellectual pursuits. It will convert the historic past of the college into the noble traditions of the present. It will make of student activities glorious adventures in human relations.

But college spirit is not self-creative — the college must implant it in student hearts and minds and nurture it through enriching activities and experiences. Then will it blossom in creative imagination and bring forth fruit in beauty of character.

ATHLETICS

The Athletic Board of Control

With the increase of athletics at Juniata there necessarily had to be a method of controlling the program as outlined by the managers and the Department of Physical Education.

This need resulted in the formation of the Board of Control.

Primarily interested in the arrangement of the intercollegiate program of sports the Board has extended its range of interests to the whole athletic realm of the college. This widened interest necessitated the incorporation of other factors in the representation of the various elements of the school. At the present time the Board is composed of representatives of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the Student Body, who work in cooperation on the problems of schedules, election of managers, suitability of opponents, and the eligibility of players as well as the matters pertaining to equipment and officials.

In the handling of these problems the Board has expressed itself in a commendable manner and has shown excellent judgment in an administrative capacity.

M. R. SWARTZ

Head Coach

The 1935 season completes Coach Swartz's fifth year as the director of Juniata's athletic destinies. That he has made a success of his work is not to be denied — his record speaks for itself. Yet it is not the record he has compiled that is the outstanding thing of his connection with J. C., but it is more the impression he has made through his personal contacts with the students in the classroom and on the athletic field.

Years of practical experience as a college athlete, semi-professional ballplayer, and preparatory and college coach have left their stamp of practical application on his work; added to this Coach Swartz has proved that he is also a keen student of the game by the clever way in which he has handled the green material to fill the gaps created by graduating veterans and the strategy he has used to form winning combinations.

Besides being the active director of the three major sports in college Mr. Swartz has also given considerable time and attention to the growth of the college athletic program in relation to the student. He has been most instrumental in arranging the intra-mural program and in keeping athletics in accord with the school program.

The Alfarata congratulates Coach Swartz and adds a most sincere wish for continued success.

Best wishes to a fine girl.

M R Swartz

P. M. SNIDER
Assistant Coach

In recognition of the fine, unselfish work of Juniata's able assistant coach, P. M. Snider, the Alfarata takes off its hat in a salute to one of the hardest-working and most sincere men on the campus.

Popular with all who have come in contact with him, "Mike" has secured this respect by his impartial and square treatment of the men who have had the good fortune to serve under him. An athletic disciplinarian of the first degree, he has by his very earnestness secured the unsparing cooperation of the men. A large part of his success in dealing with men has been his sympathy and understanding of student life coupled with a desire to be of help. This close relationship is exhibited in every sport with which he is affiliated . . . the football line in the Fall . . . freshman basketball in the Winter . . . and track and tennis in Spring.

ELIZABETH FLECK
Director of Women's Athletics

Miss Fleck, formerly a student of Juniata College and a graduate of William and Mary College has for the past three years been guiding and building up the program of women's athletics at Juniata. She has built up an intra-mural program for each year, the main sports being: hockey, soccer, volley ball, basketball, baseball, track, and tennis. Miss Fleck has also coached, very successfully, a varsity basketball team, the only activity with intercollegiate competition for women. Her exceptionally keen interest in hockey has led to the development of a team of intercollegiate proportions. This season she has innovated a program of mixed volley ball in the intra-mural schedule.

Aside from athletic activity, Miss Fleck has acted as the advisor for the Women's "J" Club; prepared the women's part for the entertainment of the alumni on the Homecoming program, and contributed her coaching to better the success of the annual May Day program.

A Reverse

The pre-season forcasts for the success of the 1934 grid team were based upon facts—a squad of forty men, exceptionally strong new material, and a score of veterans. The Indians lost only three men by graduation—Captain Cook, Kistler, and Given. These men left gaps that were hard to fill, especially in the backfield, but the incoming material seemed to give rich promise of making the followers of J.C.'s gridiron fortunes forget those who had gone before. How keenly the loss of experience was felt is shown by the scores of the first four games.

The success of the 1935 season is a question. Fourteen men will be lost by graduation and of this number the keenest loss will be in linemen. The backfield will be one-hundred percent sophomore, all of them having seen service in the past season. The Alfarata wishes these men, the coaches, and captain-elect Scott the best of luck for 1935!

JUNIATA 0—DREXEL 6

In the initial tilt of the season the Indians met the Drexel Dragon in his lair and were forced to bow to a one touchdown defeat, marking the seventh consecutive victory for the Philadelphia School.

The game was one of two evenly-matched foes. It was marked by good, hard, straight football from beginning to end, with each team cautiously sparring for an opening.

The Drexel club got an early break when the Redskins fumbled the ball right after the kick-off. A lateral pass and two running plays enabled the Dragons to chalk up the only tally of the day. Captain Potter made the score. The try for extra point was blocked by Seiders.

The remainder of the game was a see-saw affair with Drexel striving to protect her lead. Twice the Juniatians were within scoring range, once when Daher got loose on a fake reverse and traveled 30 yards to the 10-yard strip. The Indians failed to score by inches.

JUNIATA 7—GETTYSBURG 13

The failure of the Juniata Indians to bottle a slender G-Burg back is the story of the defeat at the Battlefield Institution. Two miscues in leaving a slight gap in the Juniata line enabled Superka of G-Burg to spurt for two short touchdown jaunts and a Bullet Victory.

Juniata's score came early in the first quarter as an indirect result of the fine punting of Daher, stellar Indian back. The Gettysburg team in attempting to punt from behind their own goal line failed to reckon with the fine playing of a J.C. guard, Paul Friend, who blocked Sassman's kick, and fell on the ball for a Juniata score. The try for extra point was made by Scott.

In the third quarter the Gettysburg attack functioned perfectly and the Bullets twice passed and ran the ball nearly the length of the field for touchdowns making good only one extra point. Juniata's passing attack in a desperate attempt to score was stopped by the G-Burg eleven.

JUNIATA 0—DELAWARE 14

In this game the Indians were almost completely outclassed. The line was torn to shreds by the charge of the Delaware forwards—huge gaping holes were opened through which Delaware's two-hundred pound fullback literally strolled for consistent gains. The Redskins aided materially in their own defeat by fumbles at crucial points. The first period was scoreless—featured only by a brilliant Juniata attack which was checked by a fumble. After a series of desperate goal-line stands by the plucky Juniatians the Delaware weight began to show effect when Thompson hurdled the line for the score and kicked the extra point. Score 7-0.

The second D.U. score came in the last quarter on a short jaunt by Crowe, Thompson again converting the point to end the game with the score 14-0.

An End Run

JUNIATA 0—P.M.C. 26

With five varsity men on the injured list the Juniata team represented a rather small obstacle to the P.M.C. juggernaut. The need of reserve material was outstandingly apparent in the crippled play of the Blue and Gold. That the team played gamely and courageously is not to be gainsaid, and for the lion-hearted play of Captain "Shorty" Hall we feel the greatest admiration.

The powerhouse of the P.M.C. backfield aided by a heavy line managed to score in every period of the game with little difficulty. Early in the first period a pass and a fifteen-yard lope by McFadden gave the Cadets their first score. The recovery of a P.M.C. fumble in the first stanza enabled the Indians to battle their way to the Cadet's ten-yard line where a fumble cost them the ball. This was the only serious Juniata threat of the day.

JUNIATA 0—LEBANON VALLEY 0

Displaying a brand of football that makes teams undefeatable, Juniata and Lebanon Valley fought to a scoreless tie before a large Homecoming Day crowd.

Lebanon Valley received the kick-off and immediately threatened to score; however, the Juniata line braced and took the ball on downs. After an exchange of punts in the early part of the second quarter the Indians took possession of the ball for the remainder of the first half. With bone-crushing drives the Blue and Gold made a continuous march down the field for over fifty consecutive yards to the three-yard line where the whistle blew to end the half.

The second half supplied plenty of thrills as both teams fought fiercely to score that one touchdown that would have been plenty to win the game. Meeting a bruising, battering wall in the Juniata line, the Dutchmen took to the air only to find an equally strong aerial defense. A final attempt to score by a field goal also met with failure.

JUNIATA 63—BRIDGEWATER 0

Unleashing all her pent-up offensive strength Juniata shook off the hampering bonds of defensive resistance and in a dazzling display of running, passing, blocking, and tackling romped to a 63-0 victory over Bridgewater College.

Juniata winning the toss, elected to receive, Wenger returning the ball to the thirty-six yard line. The drive that led to the first score was featured by Shingler's thirty-yard run with Daher skirting tackle for the touchdown. Bridgewater again kicked off to Wenger who returned it to mid-field. A pass to Shingler was good for thirty-five yards, and following a gain by Wenger, Shingler slipped through tackle for the second touchdown. Scott kicked the extra point. J.C. scored a safety when a Virginian was caught behind his own goal line.

Taking the ball at mid-field at the start of the second quarter, Matlack placed the ball in scoring position and Fleming, on a reverse, swept around left end to score, Scott making good the kick.

Shortly after the opening of the second half Daher broke through tackle behind excellent interference to score on a sixty-yard sprint. Regaining possession of the ball a series of passes with Bloomingdale on the receiving end put the ball on the three-yard line. From here Matlack slid through tackle for a marker and threw a pass to Nicholson for the point.

Another big thrill came when Daher took a punt on his own thirty-five yard line and wiggled his way sixty-five yards to a touchdown. Wenger ushered in the final quarter by romping through left tackle for another touchdown, and again Scott converted the extra point.

The final score of the game came when Hahn, promising freshman back, tossed a beautiful pass to Shingler on the fifteen-yard line, from where he easily crossed the line to make the count at the end of the game 63-0.

JUNIATA 24—UPSALA 13

In the final tilt of the grid season the fighting Indians of Juniata triumphed over Upsala 24 to 13 at East Orange, New Jersey.

The first touchdown was made by the Warriors early in the first period. They kicked off to Upsala and soon forced them to punt. The Redskins started a steady march down-field, Daher crashing over for the initial score. The kick for the extra point was blocked.

Mel Wenger playing his last game for Juniata broke loose from the Upsala team and dashed thirty yards for the second six-pointer. In the second quarter, Captain Galen Hall, leading his Warriors for the last time, intercepted a pass on his own thirty-yard line and behind perfect interference, raced seventy yards to score for Juniata. Upsala also scored in the second period after a long sustained march.

The Indians' final tally came in the third quarter when Daher, also playing his last Redskin game, again got away for a nice forty-yard run for a touchdown. The try for extra point was again blocked, making the score 24-6. Upsala made their last score when the Indians fumbled on their own one-yard line.

The end of the Upsala football game marked the close of the collegiate football careers of fourteen seniors of the Juniata squad: Hall, Matlack, Shingler, Daher, Wenger, Nicholson, Rugh, Bloomingdale, Ramer, K. Friend, Fleming, Flanagan, Fitch, and Rudolph. Eleven of this number were varsity men whose absence will be keenly felt in the line and backfield.

Nineteen men received letters for the 1934 season: Captain Hall, Daher, Wenger, Bloomingdale, Matlack, Nicholson, Ramer, Rugh, Seiders, Fleming, Shingler, K. Friend, P. Friend, Scott, Fitch, Rudolph, Manager Cressman, and three freshmen, Hinkle, Jenkins, and Cramer.

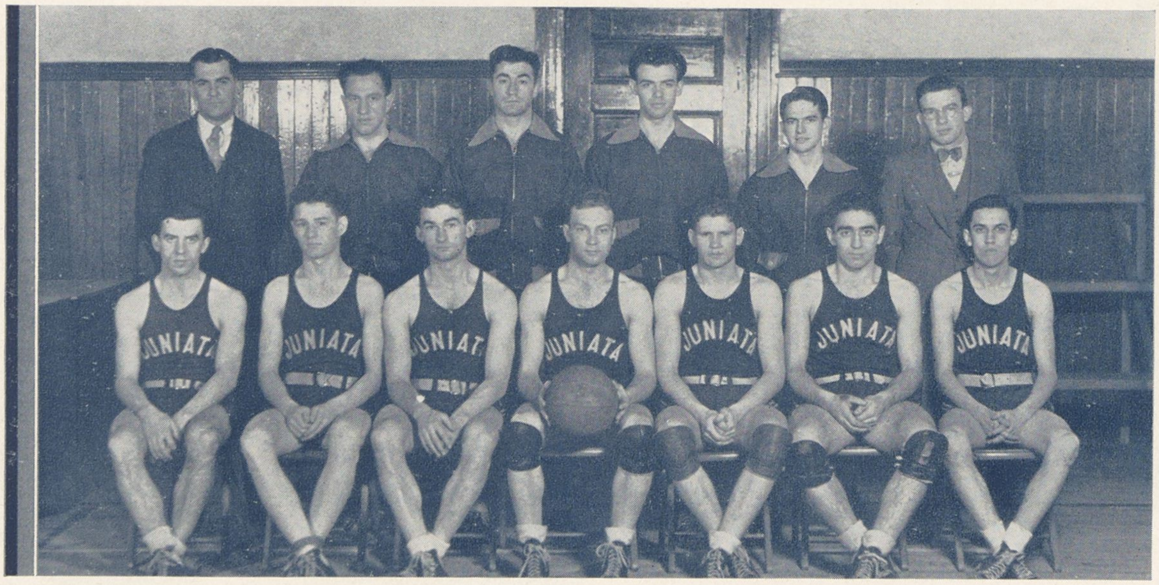
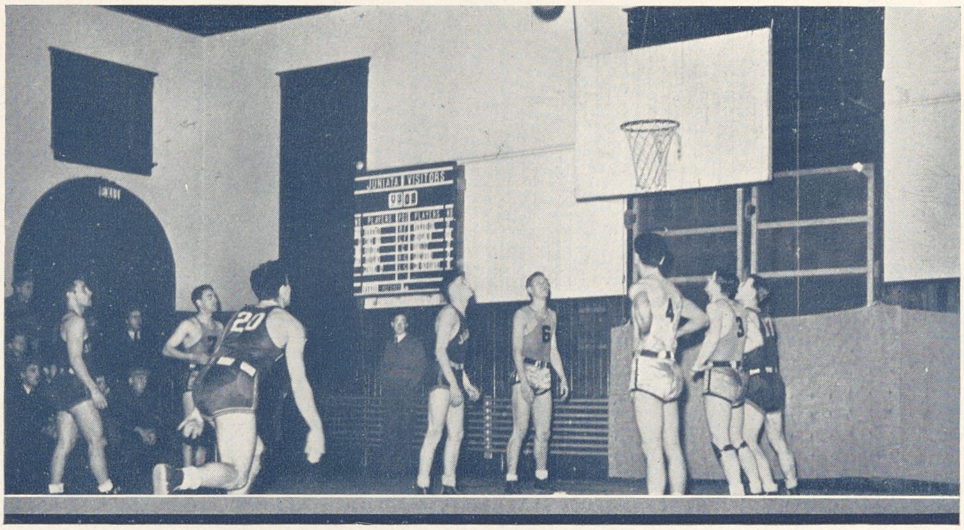
BASKETBALL SQUAD

First row: Flegal, Hahn, Scott, Matlack, Garner, Daher, Kepler.
Second row: Coach Swartz, P. Friend, Bloomingdale, Cressman, Clark, Manager Speicher.





Foul Shot

With their moleskins tucked away for the winter the Indian athletes turned their efforts to the formation of a winning floor combination in basketball. Three veterans were lost to the squad by the graduation of Burlew, Hummel, and the failure of Given to return, but Coach Swartz counted heavily on the four men of experience remaining to form the nucleus of the 1934-35 team.

JUNIATA 36—WITTENBURG 39

In the first game of the season the Indians dropped a close encounter to Wittenburg College on the home floor. The Juniata Five seemed to have the advantage until the last few minutes when the Wittenburg lads forged ahead to win 39-36.

The fast passing and accurate shooting of the warriors enabled them to pile up an early lead over the visitors. The score at half time was 22-14. In the second half the superior height of the invaders, along with smooth steady playing, permitted them to gradually overcome Juniata's lead to win.

JUNIATA 41—ELIZABETHTOWN 9

On the first road engagement Juniata went into the win column by completely over-powering E-Town 41-9.

In a splendid exhibition of basketball the Indians scored practically at will, while the E-Town lads were held to 6 points in the first half and only three in the second half. Coach Swartz made use of all his reserve material in the contest. Scott was high scorer with 15 points. Matlack and Daher also played outstanding ball.

JUNIATA 22—PENN STATE 32

The Redskins lost in a hotly contested game with the Penn State Nittany Lions at State College 22-32. Though the Lions were superior, both in height and in playing experience, the game was close and defeat was due mainly to the Indians lack of confidence on the huge floor.

JUNIATA 38—W. & J. 36

Flashing a superior brand of basketball the Indians scalped the W. & J. Presidents for the fifth consecutive time by the score 38-36 on the home floor.

Without a doubt it was the most exciting game of the season. Both clubs played good, hard, consistent basketball of a brand quite superior for small college circles. Although the Indians maintained a small margin almost throughout, the Presidents were always threatening, and with only a few minutes to play, the Indians were trailing. At this point, Wenger, entering as a substitute, saved the day by sinking two neat shots.

JUNIATA 34—ST. VINCENT 45

In the return engagement with St. Vincent at Latrobe the Warriors again took it on the chin 45-34. Starting the second half on the small end of an 18-10 score, the Redskins gradually lessened their opponent's lead and five minutes before the end of the game the score was tied 26-all. Pisula, high scorer of the game, dropped in a couple of counters to clinch the game for St. Vincent.

JUNIATA 35—W. & J. 36

Although the Warriors won five straight from W. & J., they dropped the sixth game 36-35 to the Presidents at Washington, Pa. Juniata led with a small margin up to the last few seconds when McVicker took the ball from the Juniata bankboard, dribbled down to the center of the floor, and won the game for W. & J. with his field goal.

The Indians started fast, and with nice passing and team work piled up a lead of 20-15 in the first half. Garner was high scorer with six field goals and three foul shots to total 15 points.

JUNIATA 41—E-TOWN 24

The Indians again trounced Elizabethtown decisively in a listless game on the home floor by score of 41-24.

In the first half Juniata seemed unable to get going. The period ended 22-15 in favor of Juniata. In the second half the Indians began to hit their stride and completely outclassed their opponents. Matlack was high scorer with 16 points. Daher added another 7. Coach Swartz made use of practically all of his reserve material.

JUNIATA 61—ALUMNI 34

Playing fast ball the Warriors romped to an easy victory over the Alumni in the winter Homecoming Celebration, 61-34. A unique feature of the game appeared when those two stars "Babe" Matlack of this year's team and Andrews of the alumni were playing opposite each other. Matlack was high scorer of the evening with 24 points.

JUNIATA 44—BUCKNELL 34

Passing and shooting like a pack of all stars the Warriors defeated the Bucknell Bisons by a score of 44-34 on the home floor. Throughout the first half and well into the second, the game was a nip and tuck affair. Both teams passed cautiously, and guarded closely. In the second half Wenger, high scorer of the game, went on a scoring spree that put Juniata well into the lead. The reserves coming in at this point maintained this lead of a ten-point margin until the end of the game. Joe Daher gave a fine exhibition of all-around basketball ability.

Letter winners were: Matlack, Daher, Hahn, Kepler, Wenger, Scott, Garner, and Speicher.

Freshman Basketball

An encouraging note on the Juniata athletic calendar for the 1934-'35 season was the successful showing of the freshman basketball squad.

The freshman team is coached by P. M. Snider, a Juniata alumnus, and present assistant Director of Physical Education. The yearlings are trained in the varsity style of play in anticipation of their filling the vacancies in the Indian line-up the following year. Playing high school and prep schools of strong calibre, the team of this year came through the season with a record of seven wins and two losses.

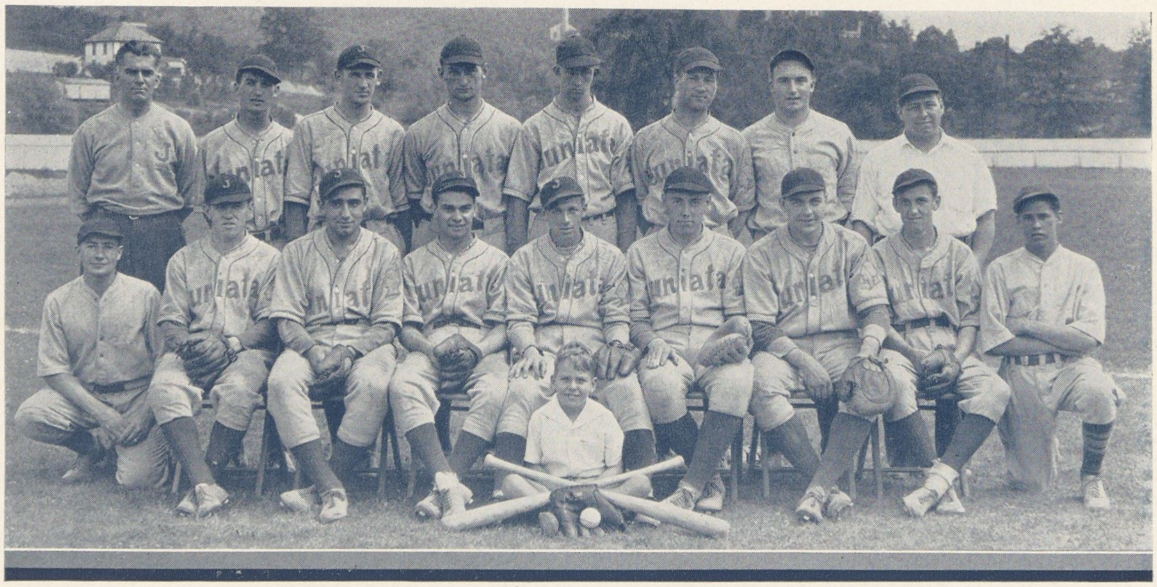
BASEBALL SQUAD

First row: Knepper, Shingler, Daher, Flanagan, Hummel, Don Swartz, Wareham, Nicholson, Kepler, Wirt.

Second row: Coach Swartz, Kyper, Given, Scott, Hoover, Matlack, Cutshall, Manager Tree.



One Inside

With the coming of spring and the attending warm weather the efforts of Coach Swartz were turned to the formation of new championship material for his 1934 baseball nine.

JUNIATA 11—ELIZABETHTOWN 3

The Indian nine opened their baseball season by taking on the Elizabethtown team at home. The Indians had little difficulty in scalping their rivals to the tune of 11-3. Coach Swartz used his entire squad during the course of the game in order to season the team for the coming league games. Hummel was the potent factor at the plate, getting three for three. Hoover got credit for the victory, although he pitched but five frames.

JUNIATA 3—DICKINSON 11

The next day the Indians ran into some tough luck at Dickinson when they stacked up against the Red Devils on the latter's home field. The Devils manufactured 11 runs from 9 hits while the Indians could only muster 3 runs from 11 hits. Scott had a field day at bat, getting four for four. Cutshall was the losing pitcher.

JUNIATA 3—GETTYSBURG 4

The Indians continued their bad luck streak when they crossed bats with the Bullets at Gettysburg. Juniata scored all their runs in the third inning when they bunched three hits for three runs. The Bullets scored one in the second and third and two in the eighth to put the game on ice. Daher hurled good ball, allowing but 7 hits, while his teammates were getting 12 from the opposition.

JUNIATA 1—LEBANON VALLEY 6

The Annville Dutch threw a wrench into the Juniata machine at Annville and came off a 6-1 victor. The hard-hitting Indian machine was silenced with three hits, which undoubtedly accounted for the defeat.

JUNIATA 18—ELIZABETHTOWN 3

Juniata whooped into E-Town determined to get back into the win column. The Indians started things rolling by scoring six runs in the first inning, and were never headed afterwards. The final score was 18-3 in favor of Juniata. Daher tried for a no-hitter, and succeeded until the third man in the ninth who singled for the first hit of the day. Seiders then relieved Daher and gave up three hits. Nicholson and Wareham were the heavy hitters of the day; Nicholson getting three for five, including two long triples, and Wareham getting four for six, including a triple and a double.

JUNIATA 14—BUCKNELL 13

The Juniata Indians played host to the Bucknell Bisons on May 5, and after a period of eight and one-third innings sent them home on the short end of a 14-13 score. Daher, starting hurler for Juniata, pitched brilliant ball until the fifth. In this inning the Bisons unlimbered their heavy artillery in a barrage of base hits. When the smoke had cleared, Bucknell had batted around, scored five runs, knocked Daher from the mound, and were continuing their wild hitting against Matlack, who relieved Daher. The Indians came back in their half of the same inning to score 6 runs and forge into the lead. Scott finally pitched the last inning and broke up the ball game by driving in Hummel from first base.

JUNIATA 7—URSINUS 4

The Ursinus Bears came into Huntingdon on May 11 intending to show the Indians how to play our national pastime. From the result of the game the Bears must have been far from satisfied for the Indians nipped them 7-4. Daher pitched good ball and was tight in the pinches. Scott put the game in the bag by driving a four-base blow to the center field fence with Hummel on board in the eighth.

JUNIATA 8—DREXEL 3

The Drexel Dragons came to Huntingdon on May 19 intending to make a clean sweep of their athletic relations with Juniata for the season 1933-34. But instead, the Indians evened the score by taking them into camp by a score of 8-3. This game was marked by eight extra-base blows, including triples by Kepler, Nicholson, and Hummel, and a home run by Scott. Daher held the Dragons to 7 hits, while the Indians were collecting 15 off the offerings of two Drexel hurlers.

JUNIATA 13—PENN STATE 3

The Juniata nine invaded the lair of the Nittany Lion on May 23, and came back on the long end of a 13-3 decision. Matlack pitched brilliant ball by limiting the hard-hitting Lions to six hits, while his mates were hammering three State pitchers for thirteen. The encounter was marked by long home runs by Nicholson, Wareham, and Daher. The Indians were on the warpath during the whole contest for not one of three State hurlers was able to curb their attack.

JUNIATA 8—MT. ST. MARY'S 2

Meeting the Mount Saint Mary's club on College Field the Indians scalped them to the tune of 8-2. Matlack put on a masterful performance by limiting the opposition to three hits. The Indians clinched the game by scoring three runs in the first inning. Hummel, the slugging captain, continued his extra-base clouting by hitting a four-bagger in the fifth.

The 1934 baseball team keenly felt the loss of experienced men. While failing to retain the Eastern Intercollegiate throne the Indians managed to wind up the season with seven wins and five losses. Those winning letters for the 1934 season were: Captain Hummel, Flanagan, Nicholson, Given, Wareham, Daher, Matlack, Hoover, Kepler, Scott, Shingler, and Manager Tree.

Second row: Green, Stapleton, Flegal, Bramble, Cressman, Doboy, Watson, Ramer, Ewing, Dutlinger, Coach Snider.

A Close One

Before the snow and rain had ceased to fall the Indian trackmen were taking to the hills and the surrounding highways, developing and training for the difficult schedule ahead. Early workouts were necessary to prepare the material for the relay team. With the evident intentions of bringing back victories in the Penn Relays, Coach Snider pushed the aspirants for the team to the limit by taking advantage of all kinds of weather.

PENN RELAYS

In the first touch of competition of the season the Juniata mile relay team returned from the Penn Relay Carnival held at Philadelphia, April 27 and 28, with the championship of Class B Middle Atlantic Colleges, and a second place in the Class B Intercollegiates. The team was composed of Pletcher, Bloomingdale, Jones, and Walton.

On the 27th, the Middle Atlantic Championship race was held. In a sea of mud and slime, Juniata spurted to an easy victory in very slow time. Johns Hopkins placed second.

In the college mile relay, run off on the 28th, Juniata was a close second to Dickinson. It was the unfortunate juggling of the baton that kept Juniata from winning. Walton ran a strong last quarter, but Dickinson took advantage of its break and broke the tape, with Juniata just one second behind.

JUNIATA 76½—BUCKNELL 49½

The first dual-meet of the season the Indians won a 21-point victory over the Bucknell squad. Because of the damp conditions of the track, due to an incessant downpour of rain, the running events were somewhat retarded.

In the high and low hurdles, the distance runs, and the jumping events, Juniata took the lead, and also copped all three places in the javelin throw. The work of veterans, Flegal and Ramer, was outstanding for Juniata.

JUNIATA 46-1/3—WAYNESBURG 79-2/3

From their journey to Waynesburg the Redskins returned on the short end of the score. A poor starter was mainly responsible for the Indians' downfall in the hurdle races and the shorter sprints. On the whole the Waynesburg team was a better balanced team than the Juniatians.

The western team scored upsets in the distance events by winning the mile and later the two-mile. In the latter race, Flegal, star Juniata distance man, became very ill, and required the attention of a physician. The Yellow Jackets also scored heavily in the jumps and discus throw.

The Indians captured four first places. The most outstanding win being in the half mile in which Watson gave a wonderful exhibition of stamina and courage. Bramble surprised by winning the shot put, and Kistler tossed the javelin for another first place. In the pole vault, Stapleton hoisted his slender frame over the bar to clinch that event.

JUNIATA 78—OSTEOPATHY 48

The Juniata track men chalked up another victory when they defeated the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy on College Field. The mainstay of the Philadelphia team, Harold Osborne, former world's champion in the decathlon and world's record holder in the high jump, gave the invaders a slight setback by not competing in all his usual events due to a severe muscle cramp.

The Juniata runners upheld their past reputation to again come to the fore to break the tape in all running events. Except for the excellent work of Kistler and Ramer in the javelin throw, the Osteopathy men had little trouble in copping the field honors. In the high jump and discus, the Indians were completely shut out.

The Juniata track team crowned its most successful campaign by capturing the Central Pennsylvania Track Conference championship. In a meet with three other class B colleges, Albright, Susquehanna, and Drexel, held at Gettysburg, the Snidermen placed in every event but one, winning six first places and defeating its nearest rival, Drexel, by ten points.

The meet was closely run by the two leaders and only in the last event, the 220-low hurdles, did Juniata prevail, the first three places going to the Huntingdon lads, and deciding the fray. The freshmen medley relay team made a very good showing for the college by finishing second to the Drexel yearlings in their event. The squad returned triumphantly with two loving cups and a score of medals to add to the trophies of the season.

Following are the places won by the championship Indian Warriors in the meet with the winning times, distances, or heights:

Javelin throw:	Kistler, third	186 ft. 2-1/4 in.
Shot put:	Bramble, fourth	42 feet
Pole Vault:	Dutlinger, tied for first	11 ft.
Broad Jump:	Walton, second; Ramer, third	21 ft. 1-1/4 in.
100-yard dash:	Jones, first; Pletcher, third	10.6 secs.
Mile Run:	Myers, first; Flegal, second	4 min. 41.6 secs.
440-yard dash:	Jones, second; Garner, third; Pletcher, fourth	53.2 secs.
Two-mile run:	Flegal, first	10 min. 50.8 secs.
220-yard dash:	Pletcher, first; Bloomingdale, third	24.2 secs.
880-yard run:	Myers, second	2 min. 7 secs.
220-yard low hurdles:	Walton, first; Pletcher, second; Ramer, third	26.2 secs.
120-yard high hurdles:	Walton, first; Ramer, second	16.4 secs.
Medley Relay:	Tyson, Stapleton, Watson, and Doboy. Second Place.

Coach Snider must be congratulated on his success in developing a team of winners. His subsequent election to the presidency of the Conference is fitting recognition of his work.

JUNIATA 4—OSTEOPATHY 3

Meeting the College of Osteopathy on the Hill Courts the Indians proceeded to mid-season tennis form and defeated the Doctors by a close score. After losing three of five singles matches, the Juniata netmen came back strong in the doubles to win both of them and take the match by a score of 4-3.

Captain Bob Stewart lost to Streicker, of Osteopathy, in their match, and Batchelor ran into the third set to lose to Beasley. Wenger won with ease over Betts and Burkholder defeated Bunting in straight love sets to give Juniata their two wins in the singles.

The feature match of the afternoon was perhaps Settle's long match with Nikola, lanky Osteopathy player, which went fifty games before Nikola finally won out. The scores of the sets were 6-8, 12-10, 8-6 giving Osteopathy a 3-2 lead as the match went into the doubles round.

The doubles matches featured some of the most spectacular playing of the afternoon. Stewart and Burkholder, after losing their first set, came back to win the next two to tie the count in matches at three-all. With the outcome of the contest depending upon their match, Settle and Graybill played a steady, dogged game to win the first and third sets with two of them overtime, to give the match to J.C. by a score of 4-3.

JUNIATA 3—LEBANON VALLEY 4

In a bitterly fought contest the Juniata netmen bowed to the fast Lebanon Valley outfit. The final doubles match between Weimer and Graybill, of Juniata, and Walburn and Ax, of Lebanon Valley, was won by the latter pair to decide the contest, Juniata victories were scored by Settle and Batchelor in the singles matches, while Stewart and Settle doubled up to defeat their opponents in straight sets.

JUNIATA 3—VILLANOVA 4

A highly touted Villanova team administered another 4-3 defeat to the Indians in a match that was again decided by the final doubles contest in which Stewart and Burkholder lost in straight sets.

Juniata scored victories in two singles and one doubles match. Stewart and Batchelor being victors in the singles, with Weimer and Settle taking their doubles match.

JUNIATA 2—BUCKNELL 5

Taking to the road the Blue and Gold netmen ran into a snag in the Bucknell Bisons. Score 5-2. Stewart, playing as number three man, won the only singles match, while Settle and Weimer were able to cop their doubles match in extended sets, 5-7, 7-5, 7-5.

JUNIATA 3—LEBANON VALLEY 4

More trouble awaited the Indians at Annville, the home of the Lebanon Valley Dutchmen, where the same Dutchmen played slightly superior tennis to win by the close score of 4-3. Settle, Weimer, and Graybill were responsible for Juniata's three points by each winning his singles match.

JUNIATA 6—ELIZABETHTOWN 1

At Elizabethtown Dame Fortune smiled benignly upon the J.C. racquet wielders and returned them to the win column by a 6-1 victory over our sister college. Settle and Burkholder dropped the final set of the day to spoil a perfect afternoon.

JUNIATA 1—VILLANOVA 6

The Juniata tennis team realized the following day how fickle fortune can be when they ran into disaster at the hands of a fast and clever Villanova team.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

First row: Greenwood, Miller, Wilson, Kauffman, Cupp, Trude, Gongaware.
Second row: Coach Fleck, Niederheiser, Kurtz, Poulson, Reber, Ranck, Eichelman, Joseph, Brubaker, V. Kurtz.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The only major sport of any consequence for the Juniata women is basketball. More emphasis is placed upon intra-mural competition than that of intercollegiate type, and as a result the schedule of women's basketball games have been rather few. This year the co-eds played three intercollegiate games: two with E-Town and another with the Alumni. Drexel had been previously scheduled but cancelled the game at the last minute much to the disappointment of the Blue and Gold basketeers.

A wealth of good material was at hand for the formation of a championship club. Accurate shooting, and hard-fighting forwards were to be found in Captain Kauffman, Trude, and C. Miller. In center and side-centers no better could be desired than the height and ability of Ranck and Jane Miller, plus the scrap of Gongaware and others. The guards: Cupp, Greenwood, Wilson, and Poulson, were excellent in repulsing the opposition. From this club J.C. expected a winning team.

JUNIATA 32—ELIZABETHTOWN 30

Upholding past traditions the Juniata girls swept into E-Town and in one of the most thrilling and possibly the fastest girls' game ever played by a Juniata sextette, literally tore a victory from their sister college by the score of 32-30.

Starting the game with their customary aggressiveness the Juniata team led their opponents by eight points by the end of the first quarter. This lead was nipped by an E-Town rally and for the remaining part of the game the score see-sawed back and forth. Exhibiting brilliant defensive work, the Juniata guards protected their slender lead of two points to stave off defeat.

Trude's accurate shooting by which she scored 23 points was an outstanding fact in the victory.

JUNIATA 23—ELIZABETHTOWN 35

In an amazing reversal of form the Juniata team succumbed to the return attack of the E-Town girls on the home floor. At no point in the game was the home team able to head the enemy's rush and assume the lead. At the end of the half Juniata trailed by 13 points. Inaccurate passing and lack of team-work were very evident and despite the hard work of the girls, Juniata lost by 12 points.

JUNIATA 27—ALUMNAE 21

In the annual Homecoming Day game the Juniata sextette, through superior training and play in certain positions, was able to nose out the Alumnae by six points.

Throughout the game the co-eds continued to score freely on the Alumnae guards. Trude's shooting and Greenwood's guard play were important in the six-point margin of victory.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY

The development of a hockey squad has played a major part in Coach Betty Fleck's Fall program for the past several years. The successful work of the 1934 team is evidence of her ability to organize and coach green material into a machine of standard quality. A large factor in the slow emergence of a schedule has been the lack of opponents in girls' hockey teams.

This year's squad proved its mettle in various intra-mural matches. Probably the most interesting of these was the freshman-sophomore tilt on the Fall Homecoming Day program which sparkled with spirit and action to reveal a number of individual stars on each side, and also to prove the intense enthusiasm of the participants for the game. With the growth of interest in this sport we look forward to its becoming the most popular intercollegiate activity for Juniata women.

Men's Student Council

The Men's Student Council is an administrative body in the Student Government Association, consisting of representatives from the various classes; five members from the senior class, three from the junior class, two from the sophomore class, and one from the freshman class. They have endeavored, not only to enforce the rules of the college by imposing penalties, for infraction, but have also tried to be helpful to the men students and to set a standard for conduct which is desirable on the campus.

The joint councils have sponsored a number of semi-formal dinners, a series of talks to the student body by faculty members on etiquette, and have been responsible for the new form of government for next year.

ACTIVITIES

Women's Student Council

The Woman's Student Government consists of representatives from each of the four classes of students and provides for the general welfare of the student body of Juniata College, for the cooperative support and for the enforcement of the regulations of the institution. This organization, for the past year has made a definite effort toward sponsoring better social events in the form of semi-formal dinners, such as the Christmas party, the Valentine party, student and faculty teas, and the annual All College Night.

Growing out of a dissatisfaction, the Women's Council with the aid of the Men's Council drew up a new form of government, providing for all constructive organizations of the campus to be unified and magnified, and for all matters of discipline to be controlled by the faculty. In this new set-up students have opportunity in leadership training in constructive work. The present Student Government feels that this new government will far surpass the old form for character and leadership building.

Men's Tribunal

"History", says the vice president of the Tribunal, "is the record of past events. The Tribunal has tried to make history, and to function this year as a group of high and mighty leaders, as well as a band of fearful upper-classmen to the freshman men. It was difficult to discipline without extreme methods of punishment, but the Tribunal found that it had a cooperative group of "Frosh" with which to work". These men did not demand many duties from their proteges, but they achieved their aim of instilling a spirit of cooperation into every freshman man that he will recall with other fond memories of the Tribunal.

The Junior-Senior Court

The Junior-Senior Court, composed of seven upper-class women, is a subsidiary body under the Women's Student Council organized to take care of freshman disciplinary problems. Its duties were limited this year due to the absence of the many rules enforced in former years. The first semester the Court was efficient in enforcing such rules as telephone duty, preceding upper-classmen, and carrying the Scout.

Another function of the Court was to help the freshmen become oriented to college life. A matter with which it had to deal quite frequently this year was cockiness.

Because the penalties were less severe than formerly the freshmen had considerably more freedom than their predecessors. However, the Court functioned effectively with its limited powers.

The Alfarata

The seventeenth Alfarata is the first edition of our college Annual produced by a staff from the entire student body. The staff has endeavored to give a resume of the campus activities of the 1934-'35 school year in a new and modern style of yearbook production. It is the Editor's hope that this pictorial edition will represent the true life and activities of this period of Juniata History.

It befalls the Editor to give special recognition to those individuals who in his anticipation did exceptional and willing work. The Editor wishes to commend the work of Floy Wright. Others that deserve much credit are, Albert Ramer, Harold E. Smith, Jane Gehrett, and Robert Jenkins, who with Dean Gillard's kindness in loaning her typewriter did most of the typing.

This staff has given much time and space to our athletes who have done their best to glorify Juniata in her greatest extra-curricular activities—has developed classes and administration—has pictured clubs and organizations—and caught personalities at play. The success of the publication is yet to be measured—may it be worthy of the name ALFARATA.

The Editor wishes to call the reader's attention to the modern thing in yearbook production that was exercised in the production of the 1935 Alfarata. You will notice that there is a complete reversal of order of activities to break the usual trend of books. Then, there comes the real feature of this book, that is, the printing and engraving of it without the use of any black ink.

The Juniatian

The Juniatian is the student weekly newspaper of the college whose purpose it is to mirror the various activities of the campus through its news columns and to reflect and mold student opinion in its editorial policies. It is published entirely by students for the best interest of Juniata.

Although it was reduced in size this year to a five-column paper, the Juniatian has maintained a high standard of journalism. It is a prominent member of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association and is recognized by that organization as a student weekly of merit.

A personal element is introduced into the paper by the feature stories and by the well-known "Tomahawk", "Sillyettes and Sillygisms". Students may voice their opinions through "The Council Fire". "The Pow Wow" is the column enabling the sports editor to give his slants on athletics. "The Poet's Corner", "Running the Gauntlet", and the book reviews have all proved of popular interest.

The Juniatian Board of Control composed of the Editor-in-Chief, the Business Manager, the President of the College, the Director of Publicity, and the Field Secretary is the controlling body for the newspaper. The editorial, reportorial, and business staffs are chosen by this body.

Beta Tau Kappa

Beta Tau Kappa has formerly been an organization of past, present and future Editors and Business Managers of the Alfarata. The installation of the new system of publication has reduced the group and removed the duty of co-ordination between staffs from students to a faculty representative.

Professor Harold Engle has been active in aiding the current staff. He has made it possible for the present staff to profit by errors made in past years and is doing much in orientating the new staff to its responsibility of producing the Alfarata. The sole aim of Beta Tau Kappa is to keep the Alfarata on that high level of College Annuals.

It was the work of B.T.K. that made possible the new system of publication. It shall be the work of B.T.K. to perfect the new system and make it a successful one.

ACTIVITIES

Alpha Club

A party to which prospective members were invited opened the season for the Alpha Club. A number of neophytes were initiated at the succeeding meeting. Several other meetings were held during which various games were played. A skating party was a real treat to the members of the club. This variety of program maintained Alpha's reputation for vivacity and genuine fun.

The Alpha Club has a large membership and trys to maintain the title of "Distinguished social organization" on the Juniata campus.

Tapitawe Club

One of the active social clubs on the campus is the Tapitawe Club. The origin of this name comes from the Delaware Indians. The club enrollment is thirty members, all of whom are upper-classmen.

At the beginning of the first semester new members are initiated into the club which is of no little significance. Bi-weekly meetings are held and are entirely entertaining. The club favors the following types of entertainment: taffy-pulls and moonlight hikes which are featured in many of the meetings of this group. The variety of programs offered meets the interest of all the members. The club also participated in the Annual All-Club Night program.

Sigma Delta Club

Sigma Delta is the largest and most active social club at Juniata College. Largely responsible for the success of the club has been the variety of programs. Capable social chairmen have been responsible for holiday parties, initiations, and supper and moonlight hikes which have stimulated much interest among the Sigma Deltians.

At the Annual All-Club Night, held during the second semester, Sigma Delta proved its ability and enthusiastic spirit by capturing second honors when they featured Faculty impersonations.

Margaretta

Remember me as
"Shorty"

Putting their trust in the old saying—"There is strength in numbers", a large group of Freshmen enrolled in September. After emerging from behind their name cards and signs, and passing through difficulties encountered in the Court and Tribunal, the members of the Freshman club soon took their places on the campus and participated in several functions.

The annual game with the sophs, scheduled for Home-coming day, was canceled much to the disappointment of everyone.

The Frosh showed great interest in college affairs and gave much promise of contributing new talent to the school in arts as well as in athletics.

Home Economics Club

Buffet suppers, style shows, a Hallowe'en party, and the party in honor of the Seniors are among the social events on the calendar of the Home Economics Club.

Every girl who is in the Home Economics Department is eligible for membership in this organization. These girls contribute their service by making May play costumes, in the serving of teas, in the planning of menus, and in other campus applications of domestic science work.

Frequently the club joins the Chemistry Club in doing projects. Miss Evers, Miss Brady, and Miss Danner are the faculty advisors.

The Chemistry Club

Being the only organization on the campus dedicated to science, the Chemistry Club fills a most important niche in the College's activities.

At its semi-monthly meetings papers are presented by club members. Throughout its eight years' existence a continuous effort has been made to have programs interesting for those pursuing other sciences besides Chemistry; although membership in the club is limited to those majoring or intending to major in Chemistry, everyone is invited to attend the meetings.

Occasionally the club socializes; it sponsored a moonlight hike to which the entire school was invited.

The Library Group

Seventeen students with Miss Lillian Evans as head librarian and Miss Katherine Roberts as assistant constitute the library staff.

In addition to the necessary routine of efficient desk service the library staff is outstanding as a social organization on the campus. Its activities include weekly informalities, parties, and outdoor functions.

About four hundred and fifty students use the library for reference and recreational reading. This means that the staff is kept busy doing reference work, and seeing that the wealth of material . . . books, magazines, pamphlets, and government documents, is available.

Y. M. C. A.

Creating a "Christ Centered Campus" is the primary interest of the Y.M.C A. It is this association which is responsible for the "big brother" movement, for the special speakers who are outstanding Christians of the world, and for certain social functions.

Weekly devotional meetings are held Sunday evenings in the Social room. To further foster the student's spiritual life, personal contacts have been emphasized this year.

Y. W. C. A.

Organized to lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ, the Young Women's Christian Association is a vital part of the life of every Juniata girl.

Each year the Y.W.C.A. sponsors the "big and little sister" movement, May Day, social events, weekly vespers, and hall prayer meetings. Proceeds from the Dutch Mill Bazaar, which netted about seventy dollars, will be used to send Cabinet members to the Victorious Life Conference at Keswick, New Jersey. The "Y" has also pledged a large sum to be used for remodeling a part of the dormitory.

The faculty advisers of the organization are Mrs. W. D. Bowman, Mrs. C. N. Ellis, and Miss Miriam Fackler.

Ministerium

Any man, regardless of Church affiliation, who is preparing for active service in the ministry, joins the campus ministerium.

The organization meets every Tuesday afternoon for a devotional period. Frequently religious speakers address the group. The members conduct special services at the Salvation Army, at the Payne colored Church, at the Huntingdon jail, and at local churches.

To further a spiritual atmosphere on the campus, to aid its members by giving them practical experience in such activities, are the essential purposes of the ministerium.

Student Volunteers

The Student Volunteers purpose to devote their lives to Christian work, either in full-time service, or as stewards. For many years they have sponsored a financial project—the support of H. Stover Kulp, formerly a student of Juniata College, now a missionary to Africa. In order to do this, they send out deputation teams into surrounding churches. The offerings derived from these trips are used to increase the project fund.

On campus, the Volunteers sponsor the bi-weekly devotional periods on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

The local group is a part of the United Student Volunteer organization of the Church of the Brethren in Eastern United States. This includes the sister colleges; Bridgewater, Elizabethtown, Blue Ridge, Manchester, and Juniata. Each year an annual Volunteer Conference is held on one of these campuses, to which delegates from the local groups are sent.

The local membership numbers forty students, with Dr. C. N. Ellis and Mr. Lewis Knepper as faculty advisors.

Music and Arts Club

This cultural society represents the merging of two lines of interest: music and literature. Recognizing the close connection between the two, the combined clubs have presented as a feature for the year programs of classical, transitional, romantic, and modern music and poetry. Musical appreciation programs have also been much enjoyed.

One unusual evening included a "broadcast" by members of the club. Original work of the members has been encouraged; and the various professors of music have made personal contributions to the different programs.

Because of the many places available for hiking, near and about Huntingdon, the Hiking Club has been popular among the women.

For three hundred miles of hiking during the college year a J. C. monogram is given; for six hundred miles, an old English J. is awarded. Two ten-mile hikes are included in the required mileage.

Places of interest to the members of this club are Cold Springs, Lefford's Bench, the Cliffs, Blair Park, Flagpole Hill and the Reformatory.

A Cappella Choir

Juniata's A Cappella Choir has won wide recognition locally and on concert trips because of the fine singing criterion maintained under Prof. C. L. Rowland.

The outstanding work of the A Cappella Choir this year was its rendition of Haydn's oratorio "The Creation". The Choir's sacred concert was composed of the finest of Church music which included compositions by Bach, Mendelssohn, Palestrina, Tchaikowsky, Cain, and Christiansen.

Juniata Orchestra Society

Under the baton of Mr. Karl V. Gilbert, the Juniata College Orchestral Society played three concerts this season. The last of which opened the commencement activities in June.

The members of the orchestra rehearse every Tuesday and Thurday afternoon in the College auditorium. Representative programs of the orchestra's repertoire include works by Mozart, Schubert, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, and modern composers.

The orchestra's first social event in several years was held in Room C after the first semester concert.

Men's Intercollegiate Debate

With a slightly reduced schedule the Juniata Men's Debate Team enojyed a very interesting and successful season again this year. The squad, composed of eight men, six of whom were veteran debaters, engaged in a total of twelve intercollegiate debates, one intercollegiate forum, and the T.K.A. district debate tournament.

Three questions were discussed during the season. The proposition used most extensively was: Resolved, that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions.

The intercollegiate schedule was opened by a week tour through Virginia and North Carolina during which time Juniata debaters met representatives from four southern schools.

Tau Kappa Alpha

The Juniata chapter of the Tau Kappa Alpha, the national honorary forensic society represented on the campus, progressed decidedly this year.

In an attempt to organize a central eastern division of the society, Juniata was granted the privilege of serving as the host for the first of the annual conferences. The local chapter was further honored by having two Juniata men elected to the executive staff of this new organization. LeRoy S. Maxwell was elected president and Mr. M. J. Mays was elected to the executive committee of the district organization.

Any person who is of the rank of sophomore or above, who has a scholastic record of above average, and who has participated in at least two public forensic activities is eligible for membership to Tau Kappa Alpha.

The Masquers

The Masquers, organized in the fall of 1928, represent the only dramatic organization on the campus.

During the first semester, Masquers presented "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde, and in the second semester Sidney Howard's comedy, "The Late Christopher Bean."

The plays were directed by Dr. Harold C. Binkley, head of the English department, and sponsor of the Masquers club.

The Men's "J" Club

The Men's "J" Club was originated for the purpose of promoting fellowship among the wearers of the "J" and to further the interests of Juniata in intercollegiate athletics as well as any other progressive athletic endeavor.

The primary requirement for membership in this club is the winning of a varsity letter by participating in Athletics. New members undergo a voluntary initiation before they are admitted to the club. The number of members on the campus remains nearly constant because members lost by graduation are replaced by new men.

This year the "J" club has fulfilled its purpose in attempting to arouse the interests of the students and faculty in Juniata athletics. It provided a program for each home game, and published the Indian. It has been willing to cooperate with the students and faculty in any major social function on the campus.

Women's "J" Club

The Women's "J" Club members have earned the "J", either by the intra-mural point system, or by playing of varsity basketball. This organization personifies the women's athletic achievements on the Juniata campus.

They aim to promote fellowship among the wearers of the "J", and to further good sportsmanship in co-ed intercollegiate and intra-mural athletics. Among the intra-class sports, the girls indulge in: hockey, soccer, basketball, and tennis.

Besides athletics the club sponsors and enjoys annual banquets and other social functions. The initiations are always important features of the programs.

Senior - Junior Managers

Managers of the several sports are indispensable equipage of the athletic teams. They receive these positions upon the basis of competency to care for the needs, both physical and otherwise, of the teams. They are responsible for the equipment, the fields, the gymnasium, the visiting teams, and incidentals. Whether baseball, basketball, football, track, or tennis manager, each must have dexterous fingers for relieving any suffering to which the players may be subjected.

To recompense any mal-treatment received, the team always ducks the managers in the gymnasium showers (a grand old Juniata custom).

Intra-Mural Managers Committee

Through the work of the managers of intra-mural sports, The Physical Education Department is able to realize to a great extent its aim—athletics for all.

Touch football, basketball, volleyball, mushball, tennis, and track are the sports participated in by boys. Hockey, basketball, volleyball, and track are the girls' sports. Class teams are organized by the managers and the schedules are arranged to have athletic contests for people not engaged in varsity sports at all times throughout the year.

In 1932 a large silver cup was presented to the senior class by Mr. Sellers, prominent Altoona Jeweler. The purpose of his trophy is to instigate and encourage interest in intra-mural activities. The cup at the close of the year is to be presented to the class which makes the most nearly perfect record in all intra-mural sports.

Freshmen and sophomores shared second honors during the entire season. The sophomores won the football game on Homecoming Day. The Freshmen cleared the field in the inter-class track meet.

The Board of Trustees

Through the Trustees' interest in Juniata College and their efficient planning, the college has maintained its creditable standards during another college year.

The Board consists of twenty-two men and women who have unselfishly contributed to the local institution. Twice during each college term the Board meets for regular business meetings. This body sponsors an active administrative committee on the campus. The members of this committee are: President C. C. Ellis, Dr. I. H. Brumbaugh, and Professor O. R. Myers.

The Alfarata Staff wishes to express its gratitude to the Board for its fine cooperation in making the new Alfarata set-up a reality. The Alfarata Staff believes it to be a fine step forward in year-book production.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Another year passes and another freshman class sighs with relief to know that green bands, and black-and-white stockings, and dinks are not to be parts of its apparel. The class must admit that there is really some good to this type of forced conduct.

This class took no medals for inter-class championships other than the inter-class track meet. The freshmen tried to show good sportsmanship at all times.

During the year, many of the men and women of 1938 achieved high recognition in athletics, music, and scholarship. The members were also very active in dramatics. The frosh believe they will accomplish great things at Juniata College.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Being "only Sophomores", as members of this class are often called, has not made the class of 1937 shun school activities or refrain from proving its loyalty and service to Juniata College.

The Sophomores have made notable progress in music, dramatics, athletics, religious work, debating, oratory, and other scholastic activities.

They are looking forward to next year when they can continue to uphold the ideals of the college, and to cooperate in the new system of government.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS

Being upper-classmen has given the class of 1936 an assurance of its ability. It has found achievement in many of the activities offered at Juniata College.

This is the first Junior Class which has not edited the Alfarata; however, they have contributed members to the staff. Due to other progressive measures instituted on the campus the Juniors have been devoting their time to special study of the innovations.

The Juniors have also given their undivided attention and support to their sister class — the freshmen.

SENIOR CLASS

As the Seniors approach the end of their College Career, they reminisce their student years with many happy memories of days spent on College Hill. There are vague remembrances of freshman days when the class of 1935 was young, innocent, and undefiled.

In the second year they actually became a part of Juniata and its tradition and became outstanding in all the college activities because they possessed qualities of a superior nature.

With the Junior year came many responsibilities. Alfarata to be published, positions to fill, and as upper-classmen, to take the leadership in all organizations, all of which have been creditably performed.

This is their final year at Juniata. Because they responded to the intellectual, social, and religious stimuli offered here they leave this collegiate society possessing an enviable personality. With deep regret and heart-felt reluctance they leave those whom they are happy to call their friends (the undergraduates).

THE YEARBOOK...

Its Cause and Cure
OR
Why Editors Go Mad

IN TWO PARTS

Published by

FORWARD

(Reading time 4¼ seconds, without moving the lips)

Not MUCH is known about the annual phenomenon known as College Year Books, except that perennially it spreads through the academic world, and comes to its peak in the Spring, when all Nature is gay, and only editorial staffs are sad. The author seems in doubt as to whether the epidemic known as year books should be treated as a flurry in literature, or as a pathological symptom of something or another. If it leaves its reader in a similar doubt it will have served its purpose, provided he is persuaded that among those who should be considered in the production of this annual is

Hammersmith-Kortmeyer Engraving Co.,
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

who know, among other things, how to keep editors from hair-tearing, nail-biting, and similar symptoms of a tortured mind. Schnozzy!

PART 1

IN WHICH THE FUN BEGINS, IF IT CAN BE CALLED FUN

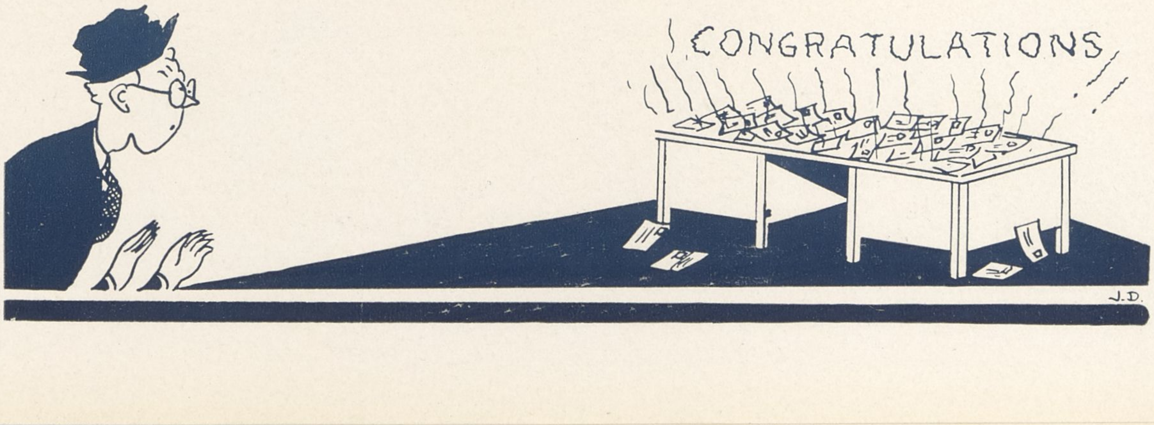
Ye new Ed is in his office. So are his assistants. In front of him is a pile of letters and a fair mixture of telegrams. He is being congratulated—boy, how he is being congratulated!—by those who would make his engravings and print his book.

"Cripes", says he, or its present day equivalent. "how in the name of Gutenberg do you know what's what or who's who? Here's a bird who says his firm is the world's best. Cressman, your dad is manager of a cement-mill. What do you think about this? "Well, if you won't quote me," says Cressman, removing his molars from a Baby Ruth, "I can think of several other girls that are just about as nice."

"Hear, hear," says a voice. "No bunk, now," shouts the editor, squinting at the stock of mail, "we have work to do, if the history of our class is to be suitably embalmed between boards."

"Speaking of boards," pipes up one James Clark from behind the cheaters that undoubtedly got him his job on the staff, "speaking of boards, is it the sense of this group that our book should be done by what is known as a college annual specialist?" "Well," avers another voice, "it ought to be done by somebody who understands college annuals."

"Sure," replies Clark, "but I got just enough sense to know that there ain't any such animal as a college specialist. Yearbooks are seasonal propositions, aren't they?"



"They're worse than that, Tommy, my boy!"

"Well, how is any firm going to do enough books in a few weeks to keep them going through the year? My opinion is they become specialists when they want an order."

"Fairly well reasoned, Jim old chap," says Ye Ed, "you got more out of Old Testament than I suspected." At this point boredom sets in, complicated by hunger pangs, and the staff adjourns in a body to Ye Skips' Shoppe for a chocolate malted milk.

* * * * * * * *

The asterisks indicate a lapse of two weeks, during which time the staff has seen many order-hungry salesmen, and been pretty badly bombarded by claims, assurances, and promises. We might have had the calendar indicate three weeks, only this is not a book about love by Elinor Glynn. Good old Elinor, how she had them sitting up nights, back there in your father's time, and—but we digress, I fear. Stick to your knitting, Hammersmith-Kortmeyer Co. Well, anent those interviews:

"What did you fellows think," asks Polly, "of the fellow who said his house had the world's best creators of yearbook art?"

"Well, he got under my skin—a little bit anyway," says Eleanor, "art is pretty important in a book. It's what makes or breaks the book."

"The way I look at it," ventures Polly, "is that no one firm can round up all the good artists."

"That's right, says Smith, "co-eds look about the same anywhere."

"I liked that offer from Cuttem and Trimmum," says the business manager, who has got to make both ends meet, "he said they had a place in their schedule between a seed catalogue and a telephone directory, and our book could slip right through and hardly be noticed".

"Yeah, I remember," says Jane, "and when we got the bill it was so loaded with extras that it cost 'em an extra stamp to mail it. We had to hold a Granger Party to pay it off".

"That reminds me", says Flanagan, "has anybody got a dollar they won't need 'til Saturday?".

"Who are you going to drag to the Grand?"

"I told the Duchess that if she ever brought that big ham on a date again, I'd — — ".

"Imagine that teacher flunking me in History, just because I said that — — ".

"What I said," interrupts Lynn, "was, has anybody got a buck 'til Saturday?"

"And what I say," comes back the Editor, "is, who are we going to give this book to? There's that fellow who furnishes a complete book of instructions, how about him?"

"I think," says Floy Wright, "that that information ought to be in the head of the printer, not in ours."

"Hurray", shouts the Editor, "I was afraid you'd vote to have me read the musty tome."

"Why not give the book to the Ephrata-Blah?", asks Mel Wenger. "they're so handy they could be over here a lot."

"But they've never done a book, Mel, unless you call the annual program of the Dunkard's Re-union one".

"But buy American, says I," chimes in Flanagan, still shy his dollar, but still hopeful, "but don't necessarily buy bunk. We gotta have a book that our grandchildren will be proud of".

"Who was the fellow whose firm had done all those big books?" asks Al Ramer. "Our book isn't going to be very big, and it ought to be very easy for an outfit used to handling the fat ones".

"That doesn't hit me so hard," replies Kurtz, thoughtfully — that is, thoughtfully for George, "according to my understanding of things in the great, big outside world, the operations are about the same, whether the book is 532 or 132 pages."

"You're right, George," agrees the Editor, "it isn't size so much as taste. Not how big, but how good—like when you drag a squaw to a dance."

"Last blind date I had," reminisces Cressman, "the gol weighed a hundred and ninety-eight if she weighed an ounce, and so Bloomingdale took her, and — — ."

"All right Mel," interrupts the Editor, "let's draw the curtain on your sex life and keep on this book. Did any of you get inspired by the firm that said they took only a limited number of books, and they had room for just one more, and we'd have to sign up right away if we wanted them to do it?"

"Thumbs down on him," says Wertz, "I don't like being rushed."

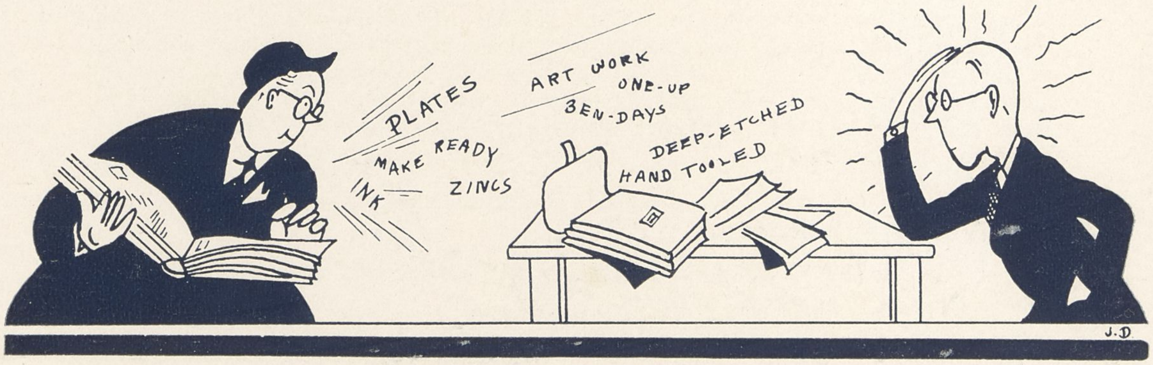
The shadows are creeping across the campus, filling with—er—shadows the spaces between the old-brick buildings. Lights begin to appear in dormitory windows. Night, in other words, is falling. The staff is restless. There has been much talk, and no work done.

"Well, we gotta get out a book," says the Editor, "what'll we do? Anybody any suggestions?" Nobody has any, and everybody wants to go home. An idea strikes the Editor—well, sort of one. "Hoover," says he, "go out and get two hats and get back here in a hurry." Hoover and hats return. Engravers are put into one, printers into another. Both are shaken up to a light froth, a name withdrawn from each. The momentous question is solved, the die is cast, the fate of the book is passed to other hands. Exeunt, all singing and happy. Let them play; they'll know that the fun @℔&—!*" of yearbook-getting-out has only just begun.

PART 2

(In Which the Fun @℔&—!";)(—continues)*

SINCE the strange happenings related in the preceding chapter, our staff has buckled down to the job of getting their engraver and printer to get out the book.



When we last saw them, the staff was heaving a big collective sigh, one of the biggest on record, at being under way. Now they could sit back and enjoy life. Now they could drink in the beauties of Spring at dear old Juniata, unmarred by thoughts of annuals—for hadn't the engraver and the printer taken their rights out of their hands?

But no, they hadn't, as it will soon turn out. Those printed instruction sheets were not as clear as the printer had promised. Zincs, halftones, coated stock, half reductions, twelve picas wide, bleed border—what the dickens was it all about?

The engraver and printer come and lay out the plans before the staff. Neither the staff, nor the firm's representatives knows much about our friend the "dummy".

Time passes, at Juniata as everywhere else. The staff grits its teeth and starts to function on its respective tasks. Artists, sub-editors, advertising-contract-getters, writers, all bend to their jobs with a "hey nonnie nonnie and a wrinkle in the brow".

The "dummy" is drained of whatever help it has to offer, and the staff falls back upon its own resources. Times passes, as we said on the other page, and the copy is finally assembled to be sent to the firms. A couple of weeks later, more copy is bundled off in another direction—with prayers that by some miracle the two will somehow meet and form a perfect union.

(Author's note: it will be a miracle if they do.)

More time passes. Then a letter arrives from the printer. He wants the missing cuts. They are finally located in the Editor's stack . . . woe is me? More time passes. Pardon us if this gets monotonous. Another letter from the printer, yelling for cuts, and asking engraver "how come," Engraver, after some silence, reports that cuts have been sent to printer. That's better, now we are getting some where.

And so it goes. Need we go on? When the books do arrive, late of course, the printing has been hurried, pictures look muddy, colors are not the shade specified—and complaints collect from students who were expecting something grand and special. They go over it with a fine-tooth comb. They find mistakes with all the facility of Sherlock Holmes picking up clues. They compare it with last year's book, and even the book gotten out the year of the "flu epidemic", and the comparisons are odious. Charity is not within their bosoms toward the hard-working staff that did the best it could under the circumstances. Some would probably refuse the copy, and, Q. E. D. to pay for it.

The business manager imitates a merry-go-round, as he rushes around collecting accounts before students get out of town, before advertisers find their ads cockeyed on the page, or with the wrong picture over the right caption, or upside down. Visions of a mortgaged future haunt him. He even sees jail doors yawning before him. Let's follow the poor fellow no further. He'll squirm out of it somehow, with a few gray hairs and some experience that will come in handy in business later.

The Editor-in-Chief assembles his staff for a farewell meeting, to thank each and all for his or her service to dear old Juniata and the class of 1935. "Considering the circumstances, I think we did a good job. Go forth to your well-earned rest, whilst I tarry awhile to write words of wisdom and warning to next year's staff." So saying, he sinks weakly to his seat, and a faraway look comes into his rapidly glazing eyes, as visions of a long vacation confront him, in which no engravers, no printers, no promises—just peace and quite for his battered soul.

MORAL: (a)It is a wise editor who knows which side promises are buttered on;

(b) Divided responsibility will wreck any enterprise, from a yearbook to a war.

THE EDITOR.

"I Believe"

WE recently saw this "Teacher's Creed," written we do not know by whom:

"I believe in boys and girls—the men and women of a great tomorrow. I believe in the curse of ignorance, in the efficacy of schools, in the dignity of teaching, and in the joy of serving others. I believe in wisdom as revealed in human lives as well as in the pages of the printed book—in lessons taught, not so much by precept as by example, in ability to work with the hands as well as think with the head—in everything that makes life large and lovely. I believe in beauty in the home, in the schoolroom, in daily life, and out of doors. I believe in laughter, in love, in faith—in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe in the present and its opportunities, in the future and its promises, and in the divine joy of living."

Through Life Insurance the above ideals can be attained
